The Spanish architectural theme of Harbor's buildings provide truly pleasing surroundings in which to carry on academic endeavors. The neat, well-kept lawns are a favorite noon-time retreat. The modern social hall, the pool, and the athletic fields all are part of the environmental influences. It is true that here at Harbor natural beauty is combined with man's design of structure to create an inspirational setting for learning.

Social life at Harbor will remain vivid in the minds of all students for years to come. In social activities there can be found a diversion from the academic functions, and they are many and often. As the scene of innumerable parties, dances and intellectual gatherings, the social hall plays a significant role in the lives of students and faculty. Campus organizations, sponsoring frequent parties to launch or conclude a particular endeavor, or for mere gregariousness, contribute to the social atmosphere.

Academic activities form the basis of student life at Harbor High. These activities have come to us through the genius of the great men whose thoughts have stimulated the development of our civilization. Plato, Aristotle, Hippocrates, Homer, and Archimedes are among those who have given us the philosophies which we are encouraged to study and apply. During our years at Harbor, an opportunity is offered to obtain basic knowledge in the hope that it will find greater expression in the universities of thought.

A great wealth of artistic influence can be found at Harbor High.

It is unfortunate so few groups of young people in the world today have the opportunities for the acquisition of these aesthetic values. The art exhibitions, modern dance performances, choral group recitals, and frequent band and orchestra concerts, lay a foundation for the interpretation of the fine arts.

The theme, A Bridge in Life, portrays the spirit of mid-twentieth century living. Every day we travel toward some definite goal by bridging a country by-way or modern super highway.

A complex structure, such as a bridge, in itself denotes progress. For this reason, we, the staff, deemed bridges appropriate for comparison with Harbor High's twenty-five years of progress.

As bridges have played an indispensable role in the industrial development of our nation, so has the high school been responsible for our intellectual and social development.

Jane Ostrander
EDITOR

Faint handwritten text, possibly a dedication or note, visible in the upper left corner of the page.

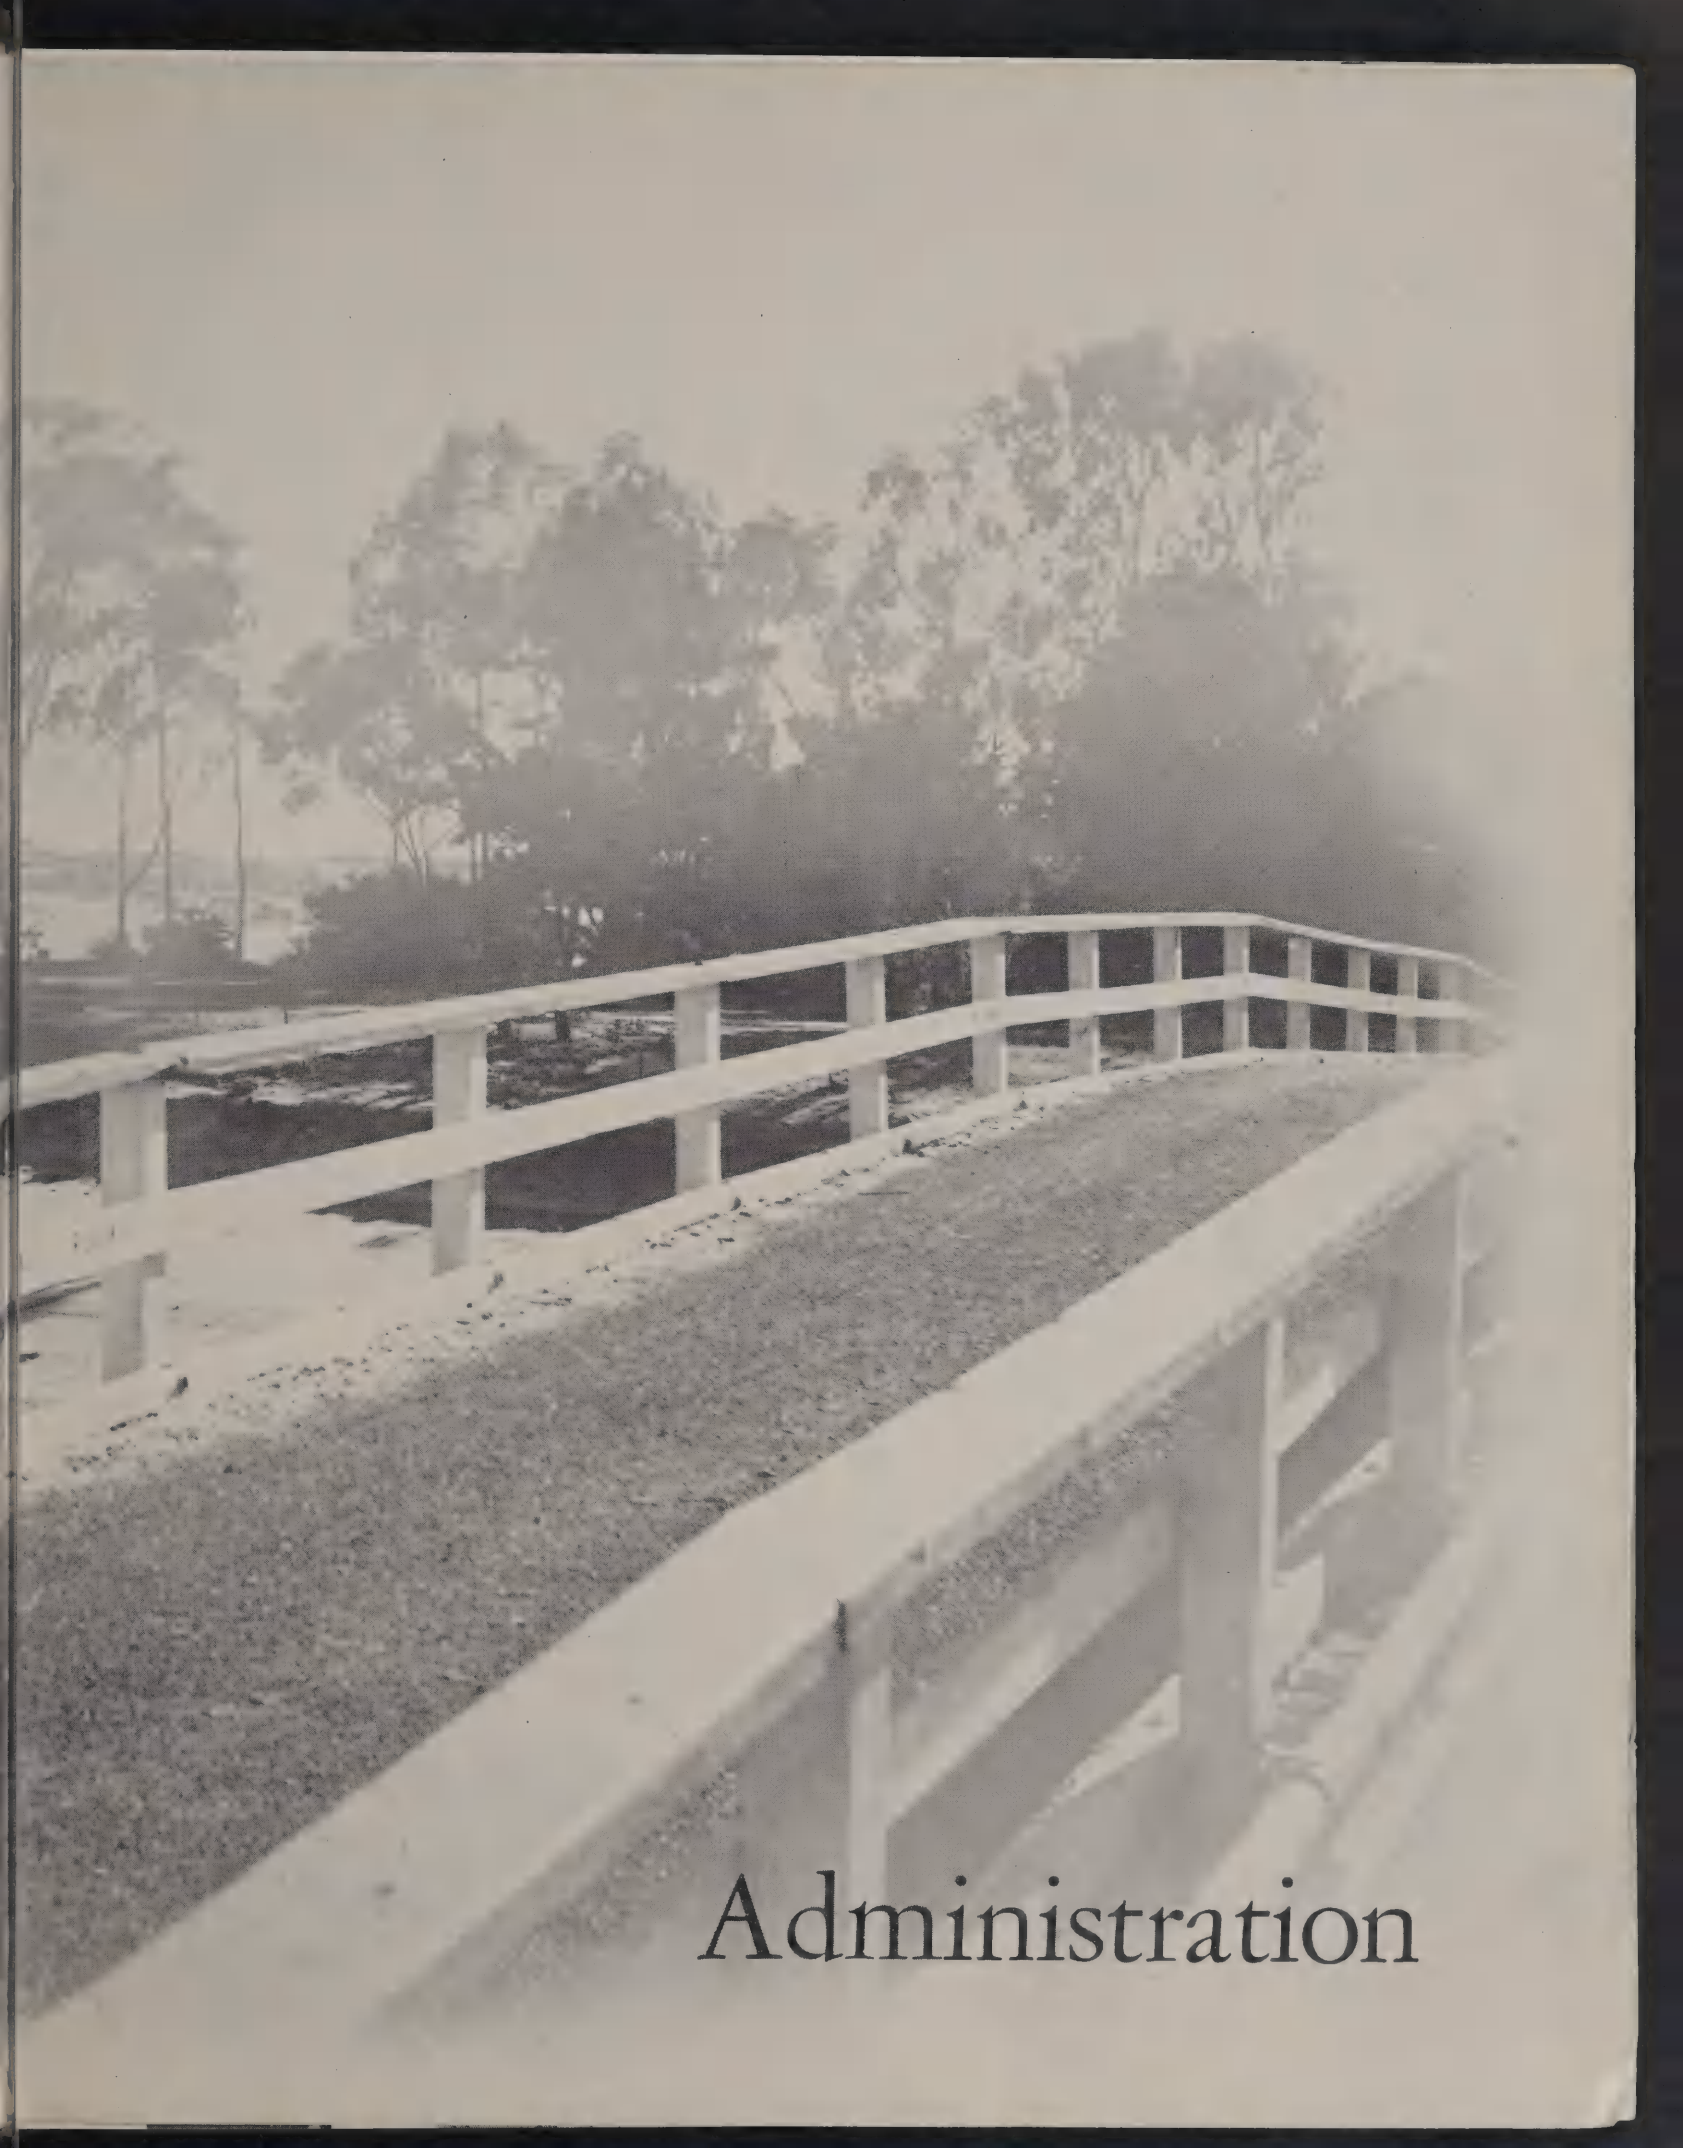

For widening our social and intellectual horizons, for her kind and personal understanding toward us, we, the class of 1955, dedicate our Galleon to Mrs. Mary Lee Richmond.

A teacher has a profound influence upon a student's life when that teacher has impressed ideals evident in his personality and has taught new information with enthusiasm catching a thread in the pupil's searching mind. Unforgettable to French and Latin students will be an entire history of French culture, Caesar's exciting marches and stories of Balzac, de Maupassant and Maugham.

Administration

Engineering the plans

As we pause to reflect on the accomplishments of Harbor in the past twenty-five years, one man, our principal, Sidney Davidson, comes to mind. A perfectionist in performing his duties, he has been the guiding hand from the school's humble beginning to its full development today. Every Harbor student takes pride in the top flight faculty, a modern, extensive plant, the enthusiastic student body, and the very successful student government. We pay tribute to this man who shaped these qualities into an institution to be valued. Every graduate who looks back on the education which built his success feels a deep gratitude for the opportunities fostered by our principal, Mr. Davidson.

MR. JOSEPH HAMBLET

In my lifetime I have traversed some of the largest and most famous bridges in the world, including the Brooklyn Bridge, the Niagara River Bridge and bridges across the Mississippi River and San Francisco Bay. In reflection the most significant bridge of all is that which joins in time the past with the present. It has been a very great privilege to have been associated with Harbor High from the time when it was only an idea up to its magnificent present. During these twenty five years many thousands of boys and girls have received benefits from this fine school and we of the faculty have received inspiration from our contact with these young people.

You of the class of 1955, nearly three hundred strong, have made a splendid record. I am proud of you and confident that you will prove yourselves worthy of the education which has been given you.

My best wishes—

Sidney H. Davidson

MR. SIDNEY DAVIDSON

Mrs. Fay Harbison

Vice-Principal

With genuine enthusiasm, Mr. Hamblet supports and guides our student life and activities. His sense of humor, fairness, and friendly direction make our years' span at Harbor High more successful.

Dean of Girls

Mrs. Harbison has successfully built a strong bridge of understanding between the students and the administration. In matters both personal and concerning school or social activities she has given sympathetic and tactful consideration, to those who have needed it.

Counsellor

In his capacity as counsellor, many have come to know and appreciate Mr. Robert Magnusson as the keystone in adapting students to high school life. Through him can be found the formula for future success.

The Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees skillfully and wisely acts as the architect and designer of the school. With planning board and T-square the members plot the future. Sincere concern for the students is the motivation for the positive steps taken by the board throughout each year.

Cheerful and hardworking

Main Office

Working as an important part of the maintenance crew of the bridge, the Main Office keeps the school humming with activity. It directs the traffic of new students, answers questions, manages the Public Address system and keeps lunches for forgetful pupils. Informative announcements, calls to locate teachers or pupils from the far reaches of the campus or simply routine school bulletins are broadcast from this office.

Left to right:

Mrs. N. Caldwell, Mrs. L. de los Rios, Mrs. F. Collins, Mrs. J. Wilson.

Business Office

Selling student Body cards, club pins, Galleons and various other items keeps the Business Office busy with student finance. Further, it serves as the central point from which faculty members and all school employees conduct personnel and financial matters. Every morning, beginning at seven thirty, this department cheerfully performs its duties without hesitation.

Mrs. J. Webber, Miss W. Blankenbaker, Mrs. S. Hoefner.

School Assistants

Mrs. Ira Haynes is Mrs. Harbison's new and capable secretary.

Mrs. Eudell Lloyd keeps the gym office running smoothly. She readily gives her time to furthering the welfare of the gym department.

Mrs. Billie Deaver is known for her warm personality and her assistance to the various vocal groups at school.

Anyone looking for a certain book or information in the library is assisted very cheerfully by Mrs. Marian Singley, the assistant librarian.

Hard working foremen

"As we enter into college or a career, the eyes of the world will be upon us. Will there be war and starvation or peace and prosperity? This is our inherited problem. It is especially important that we, of this generation, make the most of our high school years to give us the ultimate answer."

Dick Innerst,
Student Body President

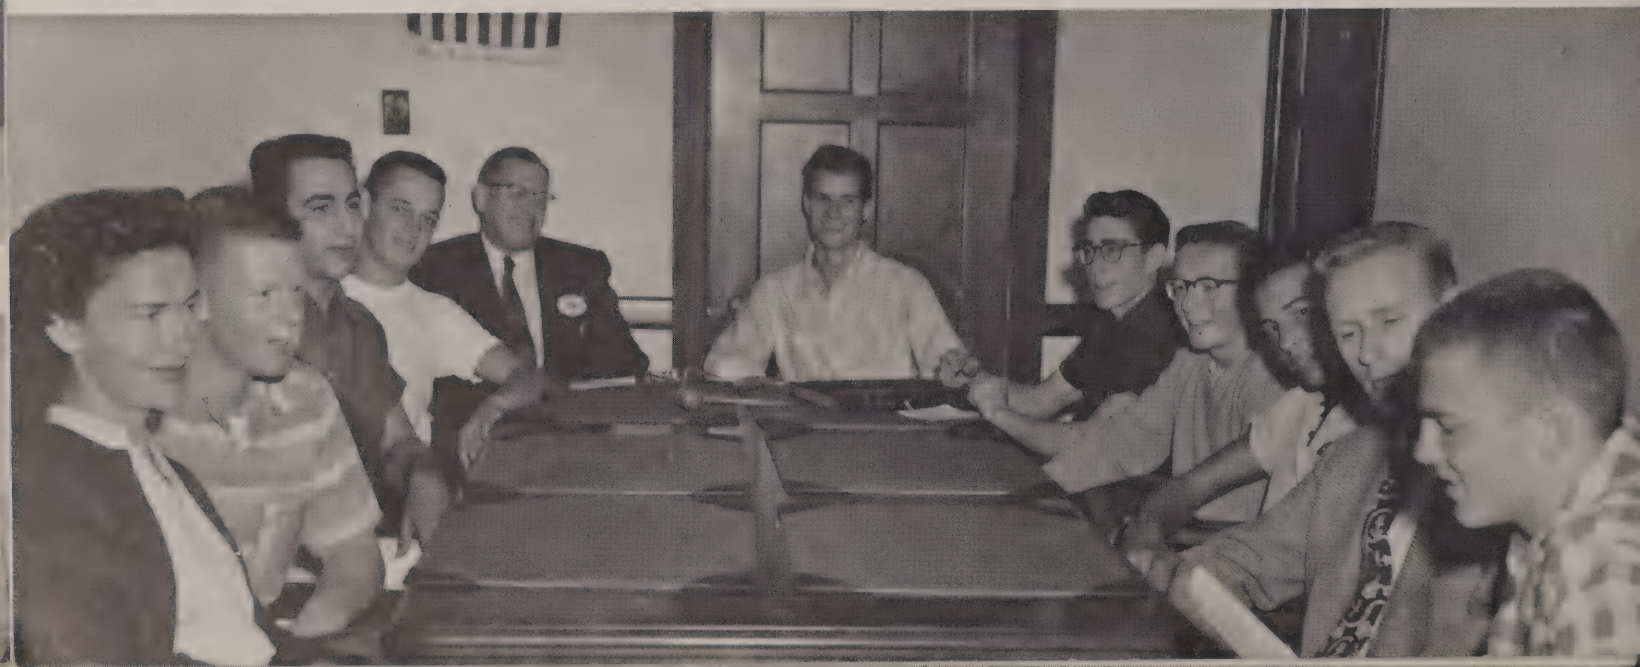

Student Body President

Dependable in leading numerous school activities, Dick Innerst demonstrates the same competence that made him a successful class president for three preceding years. He is admired for his gracious attitude and casual humor.

The Board of Control guides Harbor's affairs successfully and effectively. They act on behalf of the students by discussing and making recommendations to the administration and Board of Trustees. The student body officers and a representative from each class make up the eight member board. Upon their shoulders fall the responsibilities of interschool relations, planning assemblies, making any necessary changes in student government and appropriating funds for expenditures.

Board of Control

Tod White

Tod White, our friendly and amiable student body secretary, has successfully mastered the responsibilities of this office, keeping the records of our student government efficiently and accurately.

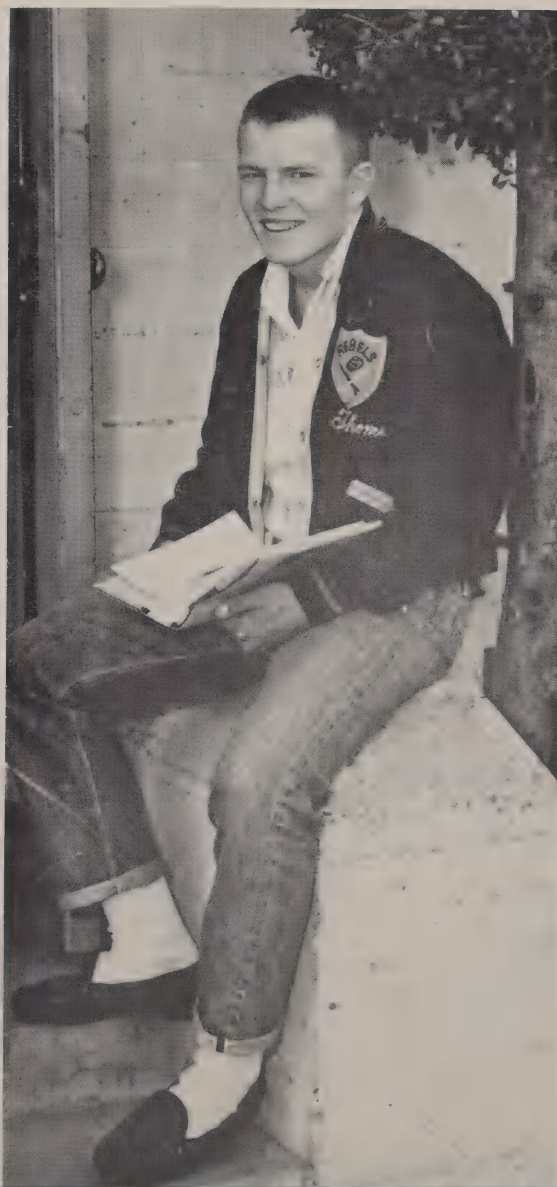

Tony Palaferri, an honest and conscientious officer, is well known for his friendly and jovial nature and for his willingness to accept responsibility and accomplish the task at hand.

As head of the Student Court and a member of the Board of Control, Glenn Thomas is a capable and hard-working leader, known for his fairness and sense of humor.

THIS year's senior class has made an outstanding record of accomplishments in service and spirit. Always working as a unit, this Twenty-fifth graduating class has left behind a lasting impression with its courageous innovations and successful ventures. Of special note is the size and variety of developments in contract with the first graduating class of 1930. The years have seen a vast difference in the wide range of curricular and extra-curricular activities, the greatly enlarged faculty, and the growing plant. But to the first class and its successors, a debt is owed, for the advantages enjoyed today are a culmination of the efforts of each class to the system. The contributions of the silver anniversary class have added much to the future benefits, and will be looked upon with as much favor by the Fiftieth or Seventy-fifth classes as we look back on the first. This is indeed a proud heritage to pass from generation to generation.

Meet the

The Junior class members have proven themselves a valuable attribute in supporting Harbor's widening reputation in Southern California. They have developed individual abilities and are becoming better known as mature citizens of the community.

Within the school, the class prepared its treasury for the big event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom. Cloak and dagger secrecy prevailed behind closed doors and the dance became a reality.

The completion of the tower clock was made possible by a gift from the Junior class to fulfill the efforts and dreams of four preceding classes.

Sophomore

Before one can reach the lofty heights of seniorhood, there is a tense, eager waiting period of anticipation as underclassmen. Perhaps no one year in life is more varied and promising than a sophomore's. School spirit, loyalty and service are more than words to these students. These are the students themselves as they take advantage of the opportunities offered them. Thinking of the duties ahead, they prepare and act to meet these tasks with foresight and ingenuity. Life takes on a new meaning as they look to the future.

The bridge between

Student Council

Representing our student body, the Student Council voices its opinions on matters concerning the welfare of all. Its primary purpose is keeping the desires of the students before the attention of our leaders. The members are elected from each fourth period class, thus equal representation is achieved in our democratic form of government.

Hall Monitors

Answering the call of duty, the hall monitors each devote one period a day to the many tasks that overflow from the main office. They perform their varied, time-consuming errands so that the administration, the hub of the school, may function more smoothly, quickly and efficiently.

Girls' League Cabinet

Sponsoring the Mothers' Tea, making new students feel welcome, and promoting the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance are part of the functions of the Girls' League Cabinet. One representative from each class, a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer are elected by the league members. This active organization strikes a friendly note in uniting the girls of the student body.

Hi-Tars

Undoubtedly one of the most active organizations in school are the Hi-Tars, who sponsor intra-mural events in football, basketball, track and baseball, take charge of football games and ring the bell of victory. They provide a great deal of humor at the pep assemblies and especially at the do-it-or-else initiation in the spring. The club strives to create a lasting school spirit and loyalty through the field of sports. This is the simple goal of the club.

Honor Society

The scholastic achievements of Harbor's students are an important part of the school structure. The academic life opens new fields and leads to new horizons in science, mathematics, the arts and social sciences.

As the members of the National Honor Society enter into their chosen fields, they are awakened to the need for their talents. The thrill of discovery and enlightenment is theirs, and they are assured of a place in modern society.

Spanish Club

A gay Spanish air is added to our school by the Los Marineros. They enjoy furthering their knowledge of Spanish by going on field trips to such places as Padua Hills. They also enjoy friendly gatherings at the Club's year party and dinner.

French Club

Adding a special support to our school activities is the Les Galopins or "The Pranksters." Gathering together for social activities and lectures furthers their knowledge of French which is so important in understanding the qualities of the language and culture.

Science Club

Open to all upper classmen who have taken or are taking science, this active group, the Polysophos, take many Saturday field trips to places of scientific interest, and sponsor a joint potluck dinner with the Honor Society each year. Their purpose is to further and encourage interest in the natural sciences.

Editors

The tasks of the editors each include a different phase of the Beacon. Editor-in-Chief Marilyn Ingmundson is the over-all supervisor of the paper. She has the responsibility of the most important part of the paper, page one, including assignments and make-up. In addition, she determines the editorial policy of the paper, and writes an informative column, "Pipings from the Bo'-sun."

Wrapping up pages two and three each issue are the Feature Editors Ann Stewart and Jim Everson. Besides doing the make-up, they dole out the assignments for their pages and write human interest columns, editorials, and features.

Don Dolbee can be seen at almost every sports event gathering up the facts for the Beacon sports section.

News of other schools is always of interest. It is Joan Burback's job as exchange editor to correspond with other schools, and to trade journalistic efforts.

Also, as business manager she is in charge of all advertising, and "dummies" the ads for each issue.

Performing many last minute tasks for the editors, and helping to put the paper "to bed" is assistant editor Sharon Crowl. Sharon also is noted for her outstanding work in news coverage.

Advisor

Miss Dorothea Hilliard performs invaluable service as she guides and directs the activities of her journalism class. With sound advice she lends her able assistance to young journalists.

Reporters

With a clean sweep of the news, Harbor's super-snoopers are found in all corners of the campus, first period and after school, in search of scoops for the Beacon. The rush and bustle hit a fever pitch as clattering typewriters pound out the news for the Thursday deadline. The staff takes a quick breathing spell, and then plunges with renewed vigor into the next issue.

Sports Editors

Keeping a pictorial and verbal record of girls' and boys' athletics has kept Carol Doane and Mike Vaile busily at work. As each season brings on a new sport, they are present to see that memorable events are recorded for use in the Galleon.

Advisors

To guide students in their endeavors, it is imperative to have a guiding hand so that the results will be successful. Injecting fresh and sparkling ideas, and always ready to counsel and guide are the Galleon advisors.

Responsibility for the entire book, in addition to art work, is general advisor, Mrs. Shirley Rice.

One of the most harassing jobs is the scheduling and supervising of picture taking. Enough thanks cannot be given to Mr. Kingery Whiteneck, photography advisor, for his patient and methodical work.

Mr. Chester Wulff has been a constant aid to the advertising staff. Mr. Charles Randall also deserves our thanks for assisting with the business details.

Mrs. Katherine Horn has lent an air of humor and good fellowship to each meeting of the literary staff, as well as giving out advice on the right word to use, punctuation, and grammar.

Student Photographer

Student photographer Bob Myers is responsible for much of the yearbook photography.

Senior Section

Since the Galleon is dear to every senior, Marcia Moorhead strove to make the senior section perfect. The job involves procuring pictures and recording activities for the graduates.

Photographer

Our deepest gratitude is extended to Mr. Bill Zimmer, photographer extraordinaire, for his undying enthusiasm and encouragement to the staff and for the hundreds of photographs in our pictorial review.

Literary Staff

With dictionaries, Thesaurus and natural writing ability, the literary staff wrote the informative precis on sundry phases of student activities which are now collectively recorded for pleasant memories.

A. Ralston, Mrs. Horn, advisor; V. Fugit, J. Everson, editor; B. Bartlett, M. Morrill.

Art

Layouts, drawings and aesthetic qualities of the year-book are planned by the art staff. This year, the members proved to be successful amateur civil engineers.

D. Berryman, R. Thronson, M. Holley, M. J. Armstrong, editor; J. Stewart.

Advertising

Many hours of service have been contributed by the members of the 1955 Galleon advertising staff. Their weekends have been spent in seeking interviews with possible advertisers.

G. Hugo, P. Riley, T. Knapp, N. Matthews, M. McKerlie, P. Hourigan, N. Reveia, R. Perez, M. Allen, M. Kramer, editor.

Secretarial

Invaluable is the secretarial staff in keeping the files, innumerable pictures and copy in a manageable order. They are always on hand at staff meetings to take notes, add general suggestions, and retrieve lost copy.

J. Andrews, G. Dysart, J. Sleeper, J. Roberts.

"Cross Over the Bridge"

Melodists

Independent preparation is a feature of this group; composed of nine blended voices, which has as its goal entertaining at extra-curricular events as well as for school functions.

Chanters

This newly-formed group won immense popularity at their first assembly appearance. Their pleasant harmony adds a special masculine note to our music programs.

Chorus

Harbor's chorus is an active and talented group. Performing in the Christmas play and choral assembly, and putting on an operetta are only a small number of their accomplishments.

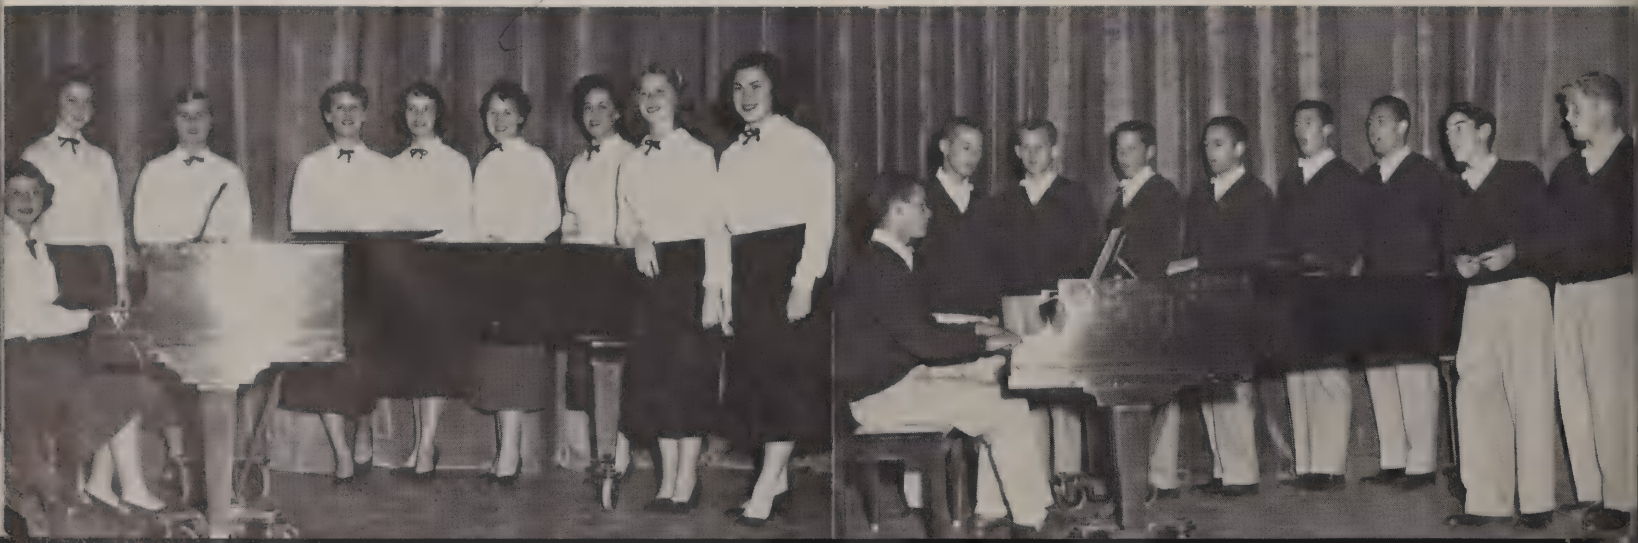

Larkettes

A special distinction is associated with this group of twenty-five who, through their particular knowledge of music, win election to the organization.

Orchestra

Wonderful music was provided by the Harbor orchestra this year at plays, assemblies, and concerts. This was one of the best orchestras ever produced under the direction of Mr. Clinton Sawin.

Marching Band

The marching band perfected complex routines that they later put on at half times during home football games. An assembly and the district festival completed the year's efforts.

Concert Band

Presenting successful band concerts, giving popular assemblies and participating in a district festival are some of the many activities of our concert band. One selected group won the honor of playing in the All-State Orchestra at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

The dramatic influence of Mr. Wentz's department was manifested this year in several productions, "Mrs. McThing," the senior play; the annual drama class assembly, the Christmas play, "The Littlest Angel;" and the all-school "Silver Jubilee."

Before the production, or finale, there are weeks of exacting training in elocution, stage direction, acting and stagecraft in the drama classes. In these classroom workshops the potential actors of tomorrow learn the finest points of theater arts—not only concerning on stage moments but also about the backstage activities which influence the value of any show.

Spirit boosters -- a pillar of support

Cheerleaders

Harbor's cheerleaders have inspired cheering sections at all the sports events. They have boosted the school spirit and led the cheers for victory.

Majorettes

High-stepping Sally Scott led Harbor's band in its formations with all the bounce and energy the job required. She was ably assisted by Wanda Trautwein and Sandra Swanson, who performed popular baton routines for the appreciative fans.

Wanda Trautwein, Sally Scott, Sandra Swanson.

Songleaders

The songleaders kept up Harbor's morale with lively routines to Harbor's fight songs. Their pep was absorbed by Harbor cheering sections.

Diana Crane, Evelyn Taylor, Nanci Campbell, Donna Hamilton.

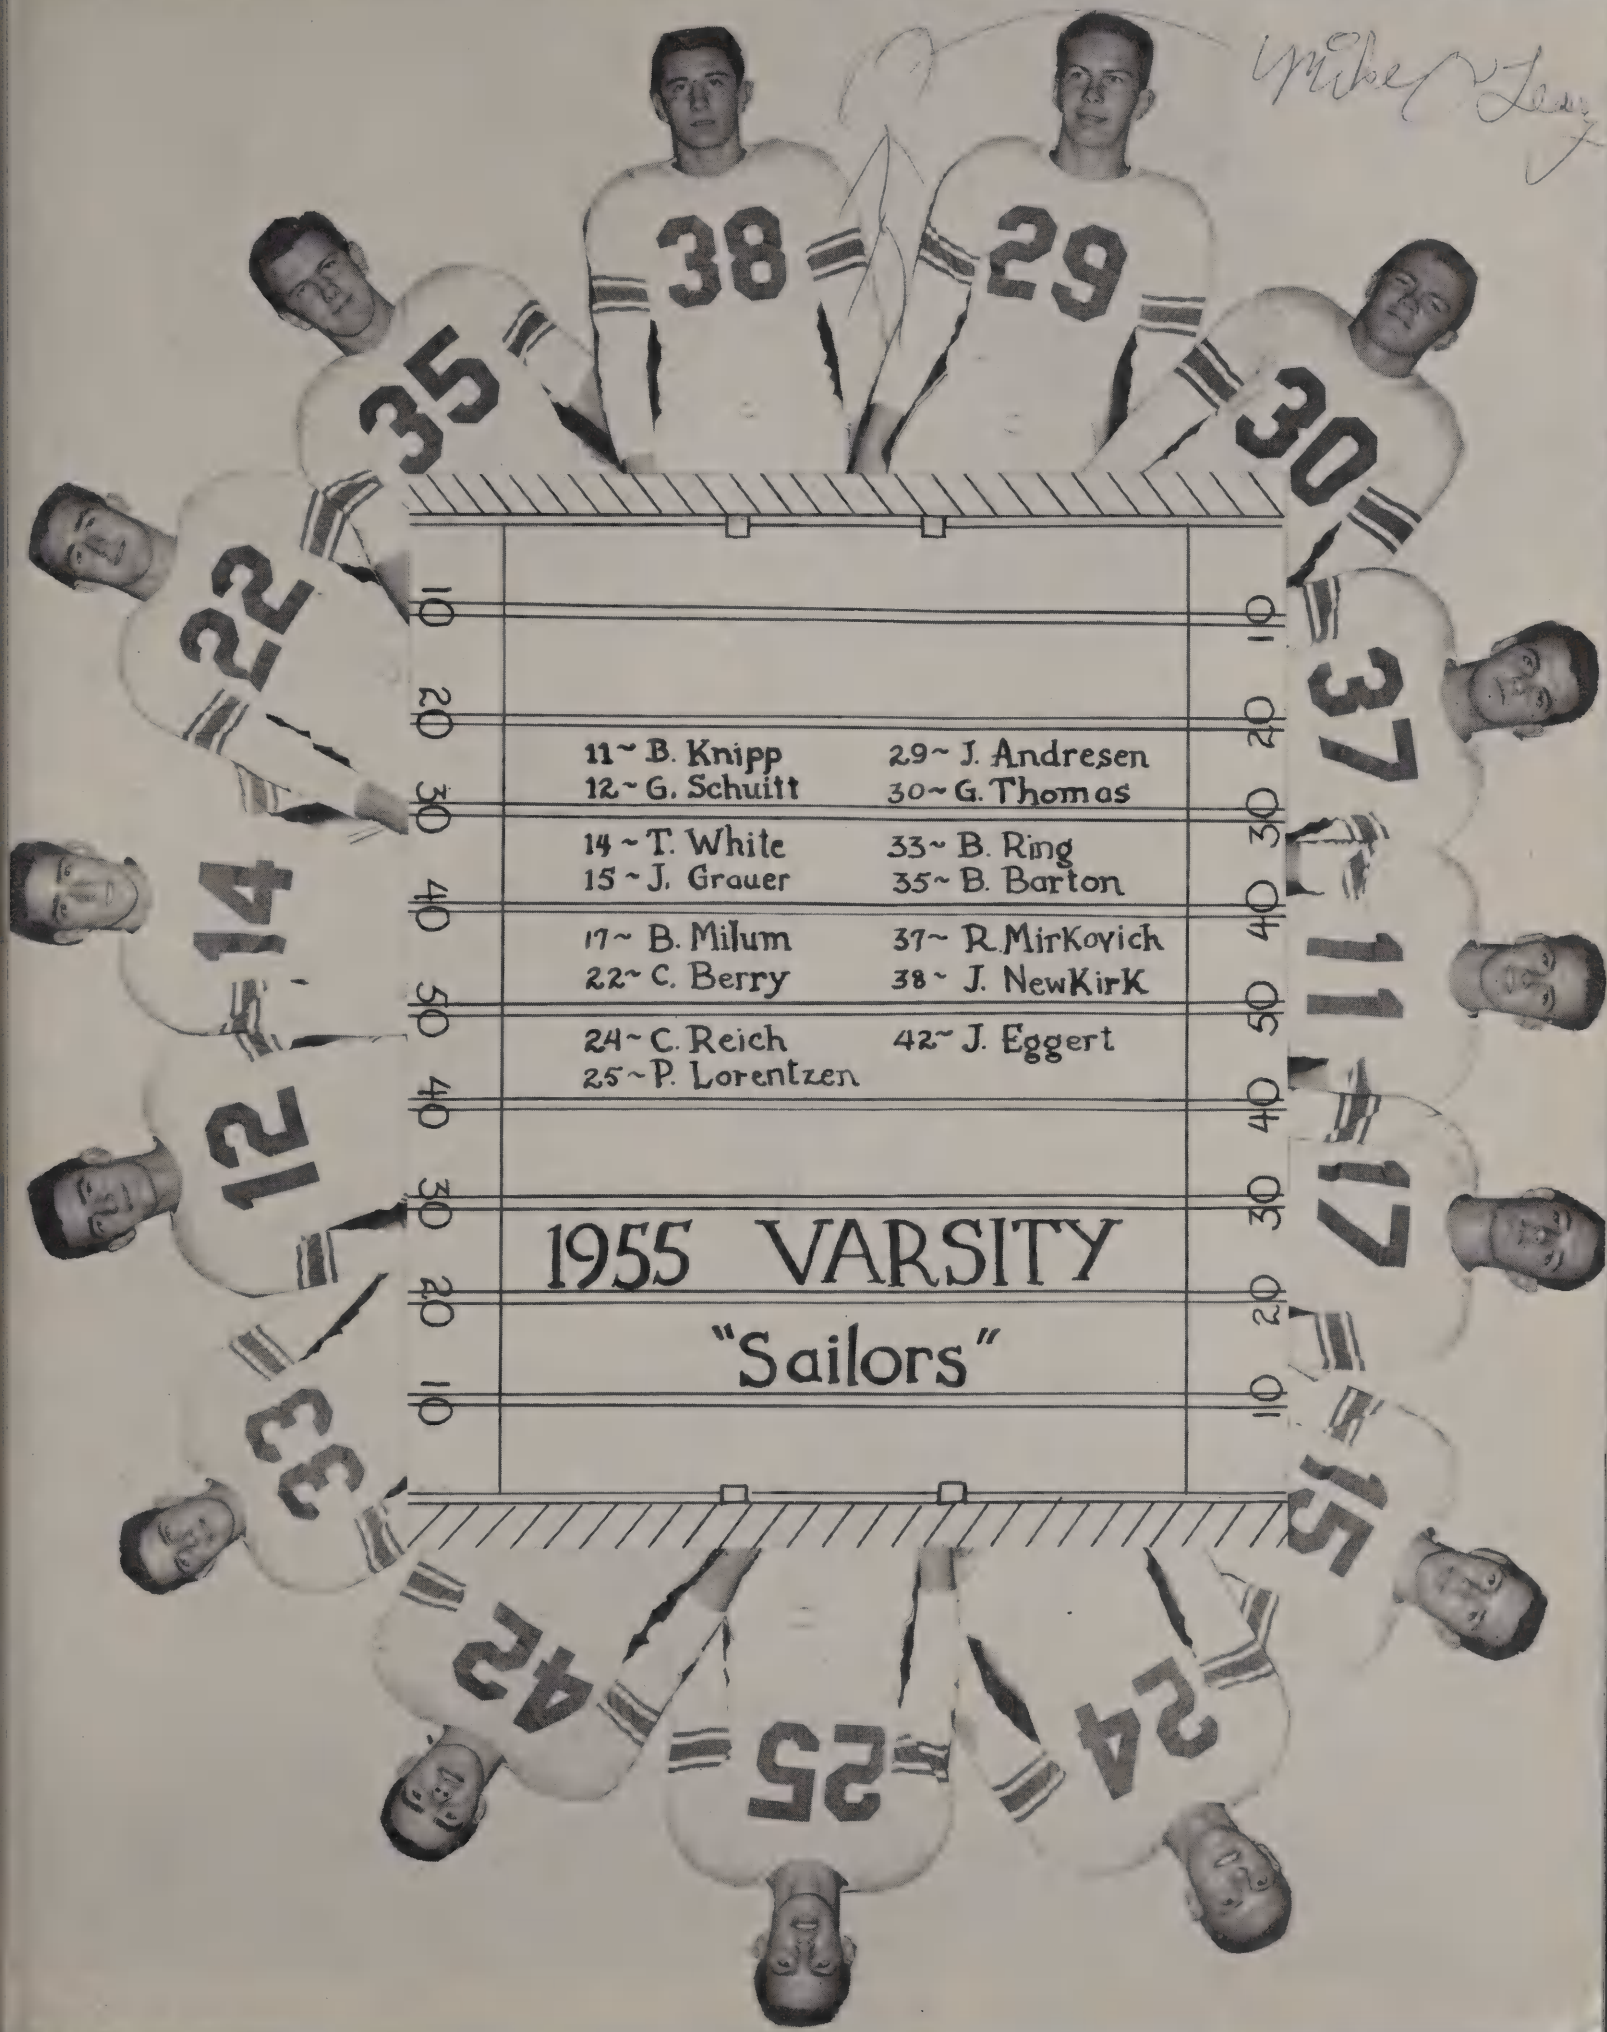

Flag Twirlers

Keeping in step to the music of our band, these girls twirled their flags in simultaneous rhythm. Their performance was an impressive addition to our games.

Cynthia Beltran, Kathy Huff, Norma Heffner, Tina Hughes, Andy Schulberg.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Harbor's Varsity enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in several years. Tying powerful Excelsior 7-7 in the initial game of the season, the Tars remained undefeated for five straight games.

The Sailor's league record does not give any indication of the team's real power. Barring any injuries and with favorable conditions Harbor might have received a bid to the C.I.F. playoffs. Final standing of the Varsity was 5 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie.

Guard Glen Thomas and tackle Dick Mirkovich won berths on the All-Sunset League first defensive team. Fullback Charlie Berry and end Paul Lorentzen were picked on the All-Sunset second team while halfback Dave Tamura received honorable mention and was also chosen on the All-Japanese Pacific Coast team.

Rejoicing after a victory

The Bees found rough sledding at almost every turn this year, but, despite the unlucky season, that undying spirit was always there.

At the end of the season, the squad chose Glen Buford as the Most Valuable Player, Paul Tamura as the Most Improved Player, and Chuck Vandervort was elected Captain.

Cee football

This year's Cee football squad was, without a doubt, one of the most potent teams in the history of our school. Coach Emil Neeme's outfit rolled up an impressive total of 190 points to its opponents' 31. The only blemishes on the tiny Tars' record were a 13-25 upset loss to Fullerton and a 6-6 tie with league champion Anaheim.

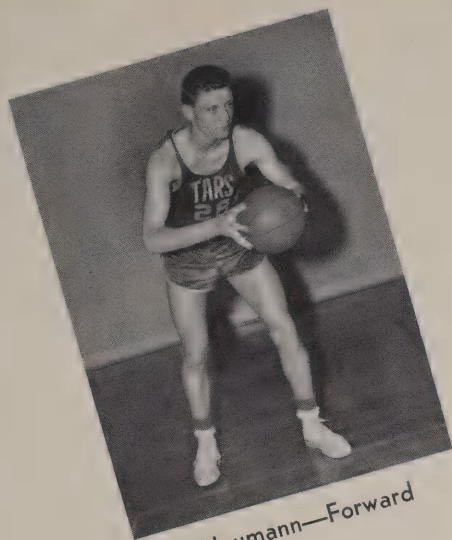

The Cee team voted Rod Wilson as the Most Valuable Player, John Henrotin as Captain, and Alan Boris as the Most Improved Player.

Neumann Scores Again

Harbor's Varsity basketball squad had a great season, winning 15 games and losing only 7 in their 22 game schedule. Coach Jules Gage's hoopsters were sparked this year by graceful Paul Neumann, who led the team in scoring and was voted the Most Valuable Player of the Sunset League.

Dennis Fitzpatrick was chosen on the All-Sunset League second team while Bill Wetzel and Frank Navarro both received honorable mention. With Varsity lettermen Eddie Pope, Paul Lorentzen, Larry Harper and George Schuitt all returning next year, the Tars should prove hard to beat.

This year's Junior Varsity team was in its experimental stage, this being the first year for JV basketball squads in the Sunset League. Coach Gage did not stress the winning angle to his team but simply gave the boys as much experience as possible for future Varsity years.

Although the Sailors did not win a majority of their games they upset two of the top teams in the Sunset League, Anaheim and Huntington Beach, both by ten points.

Standouts for the squad throughout the year were George Mabee, Tom Houston and Bob Villagrana.

Bee basketball

Wetzel For Two

Harbor's Bee squad enjoyed a better than average season, winning twelve games while dropping eight and finishing in a strong third position in the Sunset League standings.

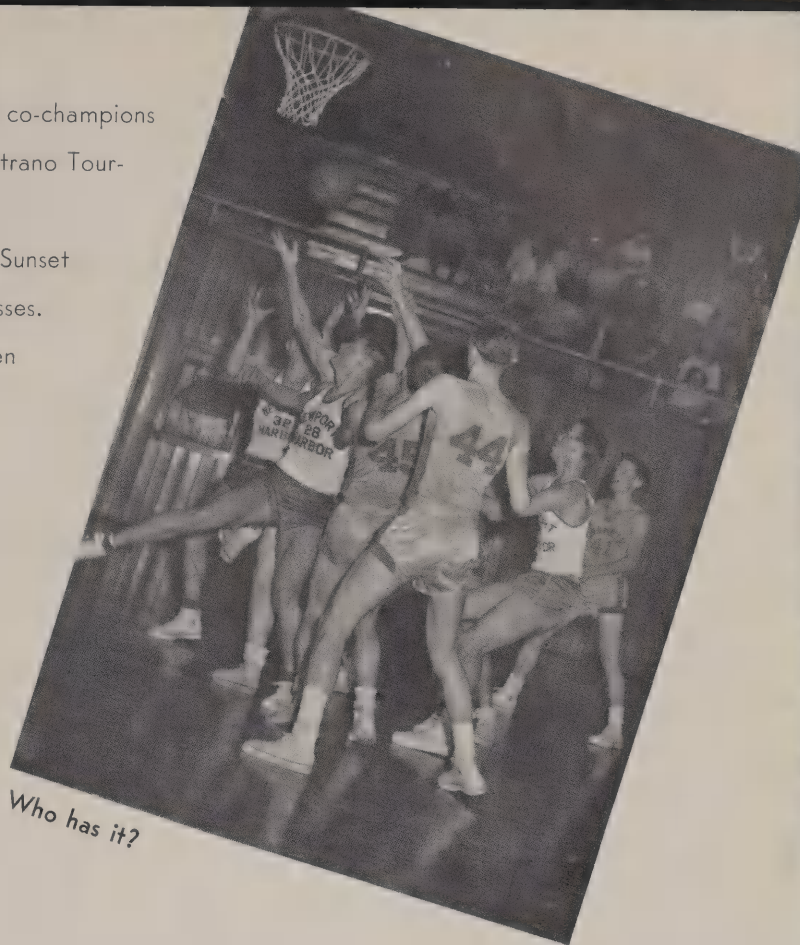

At the close of the season the team elected forward Dave Tamura and guard Buddy Thompson co-captains and Tamura the Most Valuable Player. Don Babbs was chosen as the Most Improved Player of the year by the middleweights.

This year's strong Cee team finished their season as co-champions of the Sunset League and runner-ups of the Annual Capistrano Tournament.

Coach Jim Miller's squad tied Anaheim for the Sunset League crown with a record of seven wins and three losses. The little Tars tacked up a total season record of eighteen wins against six losses.

Forward John Henrotin was elected the Most Valuable Player by his teammates along with being chosen Most Valuable at the "Capo" Tourney.

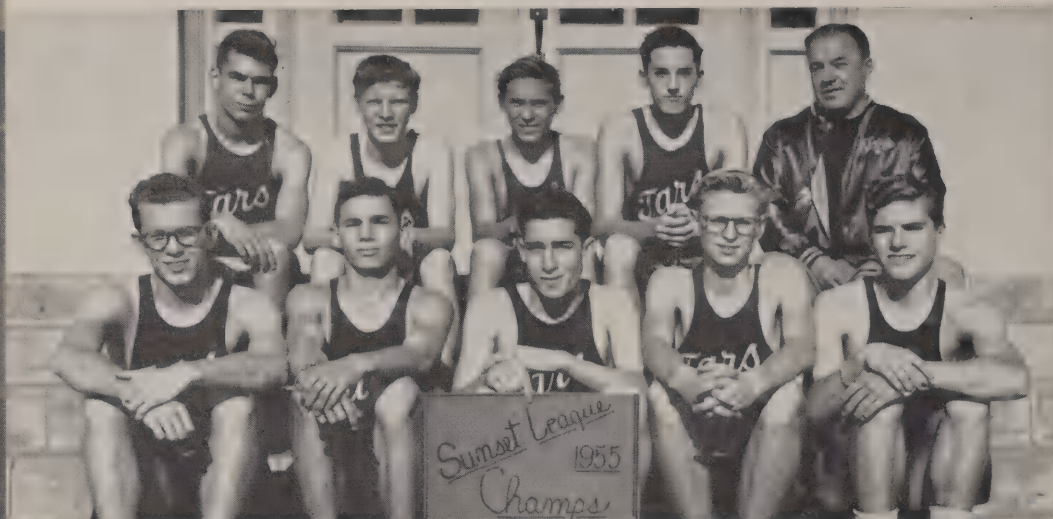

Guard Dick Morales was the team's Captain and was chosen as MVP runner-up at Capistrano. Dave Buckman was elected the Most Improved Player by the squad.

Cross country

Harbor's cross-country squads enjoyed another successful season this year. Both won all of their dual meets and their second straight Sunset League championship. The Sailors also took fifth place in the C. I. F. finals.

This year's victories for the Varsity ran their winning streak to 31 consecutive wins over a four year period.

Larry Castro was the top man for the Tars this year; he took first place in the Sunset League finals and established a new course record at Huntington Beach.

Varsity Track

Although not faring too well in the league standings, this year's Varsity tracksters had some of the top performers in the Sunset League.

Don Beatty and Larry Castro in the 880, Tod White in the mile, Tom Trooien and Paul Neumann in the high jump, and Ted Jonan in the broad jump were the team's most consistent winners.

Bee spikesters

The middleweights won all their league dual meets and took second in the Sunset League Finals.

Bruce Knipp went undefeated in the low hurdles while setting a new school record in that event. Don Beatty broke the league record in the 660 while Tod White set a new unofficial C. I. F. record in the 1320.

Don Meredith and Glen Buford were also outstanding for the Bee runners.

Rod Wilson, John Henrotin, Jack Newberry, Rich Palaferri and George Hood paced this year's Cee spikesters to the championship of the Sunset League.

Henrotin established a new league record with a heave of 50'4" in the shot put.

Slugging horsehidiers

Defeating powerful Fullerton for the first time in seven years, this season's Tar nine was in third spot and improving fast in the Sunset League standings when the Galleon went to press. Last year's Varsity baseballers finished in undisputed second place.

Keeping Coach Emil Neeme's Sailors on the winning path this year were short-stop, Denny Fitzpatrick; first baseman, Paul Lorentzen; catcher, Dick Mirkovich; and pitchers, Jim Newkirk and Bill Wetzel.

Varsity swimming

Swamping all competitors in the Sunset League finals, the 1955 Varsity splashers swam to an easy League championship.

Taking the starring roles for the team were sophomore, Don Reddington and junior, Jerry Farquhar. Reddington set two League records and Farquhar one.

Bee Swimming

In addition, the Sunset title was grabbed by the middleweights.

Leading the Sailor Bees to victory throughout the season were Paul Mantz, Bruce Twichell, Paul Breithaupt, Bob Johnson and Jim Williams. This was the 6th straight undefeated year for the Bee team.

The close of school brings to an end another successful season of G.A.A., during which freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors turned out in droves for anything from the rather barbarous game of hockey, to the sweet and slender gracefulness of modern dancing.

The 1954-55 G.A.A. cabinet, led by President Myrna Bouchey, did an outstanding job of planning and governing the various activities throughout the year. Many topics pertaining to the betterment of G.A.A. were discussed and put into action. Under the advisory guidance of Miss Marjorie Adams, they combined talents to produce a well-planned, colorful banquet. Thanks to the foresighted guidance of these members, our G.A.A. has progressed and grown along with the entire school.

Babs,
Best of luck to one of the sweetest kids ever. We've had a lot of fun together, and I hope we continue to.
I think Bob and you make a darling couple, so play it cool.
Don't lose your good sense of humor,
and stay as thick as you are now.
Have fun this summer, and get a real sharp tan. This summer if we were enough, we may both be platinum blondes.
Your tallest girlfriend,
Marilyn

Barbara,
you are a real good friend to have around. You have been pretty good to me. We have had sun these last two years paling around learning the tricks of the trade. I hope we have a great time this summer, and get as black as tar.
You and Bob make a pretty good looking couple.
Don't let him make me too black and blue.
Your lasting friend,
Nancy
